2. Subject of the Agreement.

- 2.1. This Merchant's electronic money account maintenance and payment service provision agreement is concluded between Mobilly and the Merchant, and it determines the procedure by which the Merchant uses Mobilly's electronic money account to receive payments from its Customers and business partners using the electronic money services issued by Mobilly, as well as receive payment services in accordance with subsection d) of the first part of Article 1 of the Law on Payment Services and Electronic Money of Republic of Latvia.
- 2.2. Annex No.1 - Rules for opening and servicing the Merchant's electronic money account, and Annex No.2 – Payment service rules, are integral parts of this Agreement. This Agreement and its Annex No.1 and Annex No.2 (their current version) are mutually inseparable parts and in all cases must be considered as one agreement.

3. Opening and using an electronic money account.

- 3.1. Mobilly and the Merchant agree that after completing the customer research procedure specified in the regulatory acts, an electronic money account is opened for the Merchant in the Mobilly system, which the Merchant uses to receive electronic money payments from Customers - natural persons, , when paying for the Merchant's goods and services. Mobilly does not act as a Merchant service provider to the Customer, but as a payment service provider.
- 3.2. The electronic money account can be used for electronic money buyback transactions in accordance with the procedure specified in the Agreement.
- 3.3. Electronic money is issued by Mobilly in exchange for funds. Electronic money is bought back by Mobilly, by disbursing funds in accordance with the procedure specified in the Agreement. Other persons cannot issue or buy back Mobilly's electronic money, except if Mobilly itself has authorized this person and the person is coordinated with The Bank of Latvia (Latvijas Banka). Information about persons authorized to issue or redeem Mobilly electronic money is published on the Mobilly website and on the Website of Latvijas Banka.
- 3.4. When redeeming electronic money, Mobilly applies the commission specified in the Price List. Mobilly may apply special fees for the provided electronic money services or for the provision of specific services, by concluding an agreement on changes in the Price List.
- 3.5. Mobilly's electronic money account opening and servicing is carried out in accordance with the Rules for opening and servicing the Merchant's electronic money account in Appendix No. 1.

4. Payment service.

- 4.1. If the Merchant has chosen to receive the Payment service, as part of the Payment service, Mobilly buys and the Merchant sells the services or goods provided by the Merchant with the aim of Mobilly reselling them on its own behalf via Website and App, but in the Merchant's interest, to Customers - economic operators using the Mobilly Accounting System. Mobilly does not act as a Merchant service provider to the Customer, but as a payment service provider.
- 4.2. Mobilly provides information to customers – legal entities, about the amount of services used or purchased goods, by preparing a transaction report. Mobilly settles with the Merchant services rendered or goods sold to Customers – legal entities, and is entitled to independently choose the type and form in which the Customer-legal entity, settles with Mobilly for these services.
- 4.3. The commission for the Payment service is determined in the Price List.
